

A stylized illustration on a teal background with a white speckled pattern. A hand on the left holds a dark, textured object resembling a bird's beak. This beak is inserted into the mouth of a bird's head on the right. The bird's head is detailed with black and white stippling and has large, round eyes. The bird's neck and upper body are also visible, showing a dark collar and a circular ornament. In the lower part of the image, there are simple line drawings of a sofa and a path with footprints leading towards it.
